3 REVIEW OF MULTI-AGENCY (PIVOT) AND LOCALITY WORKING APPROACH - FINDINGS AND NEXT STEPS

Hayley gave a presentation outlining the report attached to the agenda, showing the evaluation of the multi-agency hub (PIVOT) where organisations come together to deliver public services to support vulnerable individuals through agency referrals to promote early intervention and prevention.

Hayley gave brief description, findings and update on the following headings:

- Benefits of Locality Working

- Key Achievements
- Case Intake - – referrals received 102 cases in 12 months
- Breakdown of MASH – 134 cases over 12 months.
- Primary Reasons for Concern – showing main issues
- Service Resource
- Wider Support
- Recommendations throughout the report to be considered.

Discussion took place round the table after the presentation. The Chair asked about investment funding and where it came from, Hayley said from charitable organisations offering to support. Partners to consider funding ask for localised interventions and Hayley to bring back detail in November.

Chief Inspector Gary Crowe said as an observation Chorley should be proud of the Chorley Model seen as best practice. Also praised Hayley for the work she is doing.

Dr Khandavalli agreed Chorley is way ahead. Integrated ways of working together prove it and there is now a need to use collective data to take to the next level. Dr Khandavalli is meeting with Vicky to discuss sharing data and will bring back to the next meeting to share with the Group. In order to push the boundaries and demonstrate added value, analytical resources may be required.

Offer from the police, could provide community safety analysis if enough notice was given.

ACTION

Vicky and Dr Khandavalli to meet and report back to a future meeting

Hayley to bring back detail of partner funding for localised interventions to the November meeting

4 OVERVIEW OF ONE PUBLIC ESTATE AND UPDATE ON CURRENT POSITION

Rachel Salter gave a presentation on One Public Estate, its strategic objectives and showed the projects Chorley are progressing with One Public Estate.

The council have secured three rounds of One Public Estate revenue funding. OPE round four saw the integration of customer focused services within a Chorley town centre location. This also benefited the partners in reduced running costs and a generation of capital receipts.

Round six funding goes to Tatton to help provide a masterplan and options for the delivery of housing, a new community centre and upgrading of the recreational facilities, working in partnership with GPs and CCG.

Round seven has been awarded for investigation and feasibility works at the Bengal Street site.

Discussion round the table took place after the presentation. Next round of bids comes out in October and Rachel asked if anyone had any ideas to bring to the scheme to let her know.
